EXCELLENCE - Do your homework before taking nutritional supplements

Focus on Nutraceutical Research New Health Wishes Everyone Good Health!

Dr. Hsia has dedicated his life to do Nutraceutical research to make the most appropriate, safest, side effect free, products to maintain people's health

New Health creates and produces top quality world renowned products with benefits based on the scientific evidence and clinical trials and never exaggerates or hypes the products' function.

Professional Research Safe and Secure Products

New Health Nutraceutical supplements are created by professionals with chemistry, biochemistry, nutritional, and medical knowledge. This scientific expertise ensures that the Nutraceutical supplements are created properly using excellent raw material nutrients in the right combination. The New Health professional nutraceutical consultant group and research team develops the best nutraceutical supplements based on the latest scientific evidence. Proof of the advantage and benefit of New Health Nutraceuticals is demonstrated through clinical experiments and many personal testimonies.

The best supplements require the best raw materials. The researchers at New Health use the best sources available and apply these nutrients' characteristics optimally to design complete and effective Nutraceutical supplements.

Dr. Hsia emphasizes, that the developmental process is critical to ensuring the quality and concentration of nutrients. New Health uses proprietary methods such as a low temperature flush drying technique in order to retain full nutrient value. Special processes such as these ensure that the New Health Nutraceuticals are excellent in their ability to be well absorbed and effectively exert their significant effects to your health advantage.

For example, for the new product, Fiberry™, just launched by New Health, the NH research team found more than 10 different types of berries with potent antioxidant benefits. This research and experience was incorporated with the technique of low temperature flush drying to provide the most advanced high concentration multi-antioxidant product available today. New health conscious individuals have the most appropriate, safest, side effect free, product to maintain their health in our toxic world.

Create A Quality Life Through High Quality Nutritional Supplements

The main reason Dr. Hsia established New Health is to provide a means to help everyone maintain their health and quality of life throughout their life.

Dr. Hsia's high demand for quality and excellence is demonstrated in the research team's ability to create and produce top quality world renowned products with benefits based on the scientific evidence and clinical trials. New Health never exaggerates or hypes the products' function. Dr. Hsia shares the Nutraceutical concept in the East and the West in the hope that people will receive great help for their health. Not only does New Health frequently publish the latest results from the research department, but NH also holds free weekly seminars. These meetings are hosted by the world recognized nutritionist team to deliver accurate Nutraceutical knowledge. The goal is to help individuals make the best nutritional supplement choices in order to maintain their health.

Dr. Hsia remains committed to the continual research and development of superior bio-available Nutraceutical products dedicated to human health and longevity and the education process associated with that commitment.
